

Hybrid Working

Training course

As the pandemic has transformed the way we work, hybrid working has become increasingly popular, and it is likely to remain a prevalent model in the post-pandemic world.

Hybrid working comes with both benefits and challenges for employees and leaders. This training highlights key areas that leaders need to be aware of when managing productivity and employee wellbeing.

We will explore the benefits and challenges of hybrid working, and provide practical strategies for success, while ensuring employee mental health is supported as per HSE regulations (acas, nd).
